For County Assessor, WM. W. RENINGER.

D O Stinson will be a hard man for the democrats to defeat this fall for county judge, as he has the confidence of the voters of all parties, and the chances are that the democrats will leave that office blank—they might as well.

The central committees for the republican and democratic parties were selected by the candidates last Saturday. The republican committee is as follows: Covington precinct, J J Emers; Dakota, Albert Hikes; Emerson, F S Berry; Hubbard, Sam Thorn; Summit, Anton Larson; St John's, Hans Kumsden; Pigeon Creek, E J Way; Omaha, C J O'Connor. The committee will meet in a few days to select a chairman and secretary. The democratic committee is as follows: Covington, John Jenkins; Dakota, Harry Brown; Omaha, Tim Murphy; Pigeon Creek, Geo W Thacker; Emerson, Anton Wilke; Summit, Joe M Twobig; Hubbard, Dan Harbrett; St John, J M Bradman. Thos Ashford, of Homer, was selected as chairman and Oliver W Fisher as secretary.

MR. AND MRS. ALEXANDER H. BAKER.

Pioneer residents of Dakota County, Nebraska, who observed the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage at their home in Dakota City, last Friday afternoon, September 20, 1907. Nearly one hundred old friends and neighbors assembled to help celebrate the happy occasion.

FIFTY YEARS OF MARRIED LIFE.

An event which happens in the lives of very few married couples was celebrated in fitting style at the home of Mr and Mrs A H Baker, of this place, last Friday afternoon, it being the fiftieth anniversary of their married life.

The marriage of Alexander H Baker and Miss Rose Hallock was solemnized September 20, 1857, in Omaha, Dakota county, Neb. The ceremony was performed by Rev Wm Smith, the first Methodist minister to locate in this county, in the school building which was also used for church purposes, and it was immediately followed by the church service that the marriage ceremony was performed.

During all those fifty years this estimable couple has resided in Dakota county, mingled in the best society—both being prominent church workers—labored for the best interests of the community, and won a place in the hearts of their friends and neighbors that time will never efface.

A few of the intimates friends of this worthy couple took it upon themselves to surprise them on this occasion by inviting those who had known them and associated with them for years, to call during the afternoon and spend a few happy hours together. About seventy-five guests responded to the summons among the number being one who had attended the marriage ceremony fifty years before in old Omaha, long since wiped off the map of Dakota county by the treacherous Missouri, this one being Curtis B Bliven of Sioux City, who resided in this county until a few years ago.

Some handsome and costly presents were presented the bride and groom of half a century by their friends on this occasion, among them being a set of Haviland china trimmed with gold band, besides some beautiful souvenir pieces of gold and silver ware. Rev D Marquette, of Lincoln, a former M E pastor of this place and a particular friend of the family made the presentation in a very touching address.

Out of town guests who were in attendance at the festivities, were: O B Bliven and wife, Thos Green and wife, Sioux City; Mrs Jos Clements, Morringside, Iowa; Rev D Marquette, University place, Neb; L Bates, Mrs Grace Miller, Palo Alto, Cal; Miss Jennie Tennant, Gordon, Neb; Miss Francis Rathbun, La Crosse, Wash. After the usual greetings and formalities incident to such occasions were over with, the guests sat down to a bountiful spread prepared by the two daughters of the host and hostess, Mrs W C Eckhart and Mrs S A Mason. In departing the guests one and all wished them as many more years of happy married life as they had enjoyed in the past.

School Notes.

Mrs Pettit and her sister, Miss Davis, visited the first primary room last Friday. The second and third grades had their first lesson in water colors Tuesday. They took a much enjoyed field trip Friday afternoon with their teacher.

Marie Ross and Eva Graham have been absent the first of the week on account of sickness.

Harry Dierking bore evidence for a few days of having tried to prove his ability to play base ball.

Miss Davis visited Miss Roberts' room Friday evening.

Genevieve Stannard visited the high school Monday forenoon.

Richard Baugous has quit school, having decided to take a course of business instruction.

Ill health has caused Elmer Broyles to give up his studies in the eighth grade.

The new tin cups and wire holders at the pump are appreciated very much by the scholars. Mr Patchen has shown his ingenuity by making a set of pulleys for physics experiments from some window pulleys that have lain for several years in a dark corner of the basement. Pulleys obtained from a supply house that are equally as useful are listed at from $8 to $10. The money to be spent for pulleys will now be used to buy other apparatus.

The supplies for penmanship, drawing and water color work was received Wednesday. The shipment weighed five hundred pounds and is the largest supply of paper we have received at one time for several years.

The high school base ball team challenges any kil team in Dakota county.

Francis Swayers has gone to Fairholt, Minn, to teach in the Bethel home academy. She writes that she likes it very much.

George Thacker, of Goodwin, has sold his farm to S K Brown. We hope Mr Thacker and his estimable family will decide to remain in the county.

Ed T Kearney of "The Bank that always treats you right," is having the bank building remodelled throughout and when completed will be as fine as any city bank.

Mary Barry left Thursday for Madison, Wis, to attend school the coming year.

Nettie Kildler, who graduated from St Catherine's academy in the class of '07, is teaching school at Rockwell, Io.

P E Kie's left Monday to resume his studies at the Jefferson Medical college, Philadelphia, Pa. He was accompanied by his sister, Margaret, who expects to spend a year visiting relatives in the east.

Mrs L Lamb, who has been staying at the home of Thos Sullivan, was called to Sioux City Monday on account of the illness of her niece.

Bert Smith lost a horse Tuesday night by hanging itself.

Mrs O P Garvey and little daughter, of Hartington, Neb, arrived Monday to spend a few weeks with her folks here.

The annual conference of the priests of this diocese was held here Wednesday, a number of priests being present.

A S Foster, one of the old and respected residents of this county, died at his home near Vista, September 18, 1907, after a lingering illness. The deceased leaves a wife and several children. The funeral was held Friday, interment being in the Ponca cemetery.

The mission that was conducted by the Jesuit Fathers here closed Monday. It was very successful and well attended. The sermons were the finest that have ever heard here. Sunday evening the church was filled to the utmost, when the Papal blessing was given by one of the Fathers, who also gave an excellent sermon.

Health in the Canal Zone.

The high wages paid make it a mighty temptation to our young artisans to join the force of skilled workmen needed to construct the Panama canal. Many are restrained however by the fear of fever and malaria. It is the knowing ones—those who have used Electric Bitters—who go there without this fear, well knowing they are safe from malarial influences with Electric Bitters on hand. Cures blood poison, biliousness, weakness and all stomach, liver and kidney troubles. Guaranteed at Leslie's drug store. 50c.

Colorado Lands

Until further notice I can secure low excursion rates any day of the week to Julesburg, Colo, to any one wishing to look over Sedgwick county, Colorado lands. Or if you desire to count me your trip to Denver and Colorado Springs, I can get you excursion rates to said points for $19.50 with stopover at Julesburg. Tickets good for three months.

NOTICE OF THE HEARING OF THE PETITION FOR THE APPOINTMENT OF ADMINISTRATOR DE BONIS non, with Will Annexed, Under the Will of William Stewart, Deceased.

To all persons interested in the estate of William Stewart, deceased: Whereas, there is on file in the office of the County Court, in Dakota county, an instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of the late William Stewart, of the county of Dakota, State of Nebraska, and whereas, Robert A. Stewart, who was named executor in said will, has resigned as executor, and for reasons of such resignation of executor of said will, Mary S Gilman and Eva G Gillette have filed their petition and herein pray to have Daniel T. Gilman named administrator with the will annexed to said will. I have therefore appointed Saturday, the 22nd day of October, 1907, at 10 o'clock, in the forenoon, at the county court room in said county, as the time and place for hearing said petition, at which time you and all concerned may appear and contest the petition of said appointment. It is further ordered that said petition gives notice to all persons interested in said estate of the pendency of this petition, and the time and place set for hearing of same by causing a copy of this order to be published in the Dakota County Herald, a newspaper printed and published in said county, for three weeks successively previous to the day set for the hearing. In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and official seal this 16th day of September, 1907. J. J. EMMER, County Judge.

WOMEN AS FARMERS.

Success of Some Who Have Taken Claims in the Northwest. In the great Canadian northwest, where the erstwhile wilderness is waving with golden grain and towns are springing up overnight, not a few women have gone to seek their fortunes alone, says the New York Tribune. A homestead grant of 100 acres is free and any "head of a family," man or woman, may secure it upon application to the Canadian government. Usually, of course, the applicant is a man, but occasionally a woman essays to make her fortune on the prairies without masculine aid.

Miss Marie Gilroy of Saskatchewan is one of the most famous woman settlers of the West. She put her last shilling into a prairie farm and spent seven years in a hard-fought struggle with fortune, sitting on her own blank, cutting her own grain, handling the plow in the furrow and doing stable duty. In 1906 her husband visited the admiration of a young Englishman and Miss Gilroy was induced to hand over lock, stock and barrel to him for the round sum of $15,000. To-day Miss Gilroy is touring Europe on the proceeds of her original $2,000.

Mrs. McGilvray, who came to the Canadian West twenty years ago with six small children, is another prominent woman farmer of Saskatchewan. Beginning almost penniless, her 100 acres of homestead have now grown to an 800-acre estate, and her children are settled around her in comfort and affluence.

Salome Wertman came with her husband and little family from Russia and soon she, too, was a widow. She still kept on "trying to earn bread," as she says, and sixteen years after her absolutely penniless start she stands as one of the successful land owners of Saskatchewan.

Mrs. Ferris is known as the "woman farmer" of the Portage plains. Left with a family of young children, she has managed her farm most successfully since the death of her husband. She comes from Belfast, Ireland, and when she arrived in Western Canada with her husband thirty-two years ago they had no capital at all. She now has an estate of 700 acres and her two sons are settled near at hand, each the owner of a section and a half of land—about 500 acres.

Mrs. Grant has a beautiful farm on the banks of the Canadian Killarney in Southern Manitoba. Three years ago she went there from Scotland with her son, a young man just out of college, and her daughter. A year ago just as they were preparing for spring seeding, the son was stricken down with appendicitis, and in twenty-four hours was dead. Filled with hatred for the place, she decided to leave it, by the morning after her daughter called to her, "Mother, come here quick!" She looked and saw that men, teams and plows quietly and without a word of explanation were beginning work on the farm. The neighbors had decided to put in the season's crop for the two bereaved women. They actually plowed, harrowed, seeded and reaped the entire crop. After that Mrs. Grant talked no more of going "home." Her farm by the shores of the Canadian Killarney was home to her.

Many women teachers, too, are found on the Canadian prairies, but they never remain long in the schools though they do not leave the prairies.

A Man of Mystery.

There is an unforgetable story of a gallant deed in a recent volume, "Sir Thomas Lawrence's Letter Bag." There was a supreme moment during the Battle of Waterloo when the Duke of Wellington was left absolutely alone every aide-camp having gone his way, each with his message. At that moment a stranger rode up to the duke. "Can I be of any use, sir?" he asked. The duke looked at him an instant, then unhesitatingly answered: "Yes, take this pencil note to the commanding officer," pointing to a regiment in the thick of the battle. The stranger took the note and galloped away with it. He delivered it, but what happened to him no man knows.

The duke always declared that to be one of the most gallant deeds that had ever come under his notice. It was done without prospect of acknowledgment or reward, and neither attended its accomplishment.

Old Time Floggings.

An act of the time of Queen Eliza both ordained that vagrants were to be "stripped from the middle upward and whipped till the body is bloody." Fourpence each was the recognized charge made by the "whipman" for every male and female vagrant who passed through his hands, but on special occasions this sum was exceeded. Says the constable's account of Great Staughton, Huntingdonshire: "May, 1691.—Paid in charges taking up a distracted woman, watching her and whipping her next day, 8 shillings 6 pence." After whipping people according to the statute the authorities sometimes gave them a letter recommending constables and others "to be as charitable as the law permits."

Makes His White.

It will probably be news to most people to hear that rudimentary traces of a third eye exist among all vertebrates, including man. In the human race the third eye forms part of the pineal gland, a small mass about the size of a pea in almost the very center of the brain. Possibly, therefore, there was more actual truth in the well-known expression, "the mind's eye," than its originator dreamed of.
